Content Delivery Systems

McConnell Jones will utilize Zoom and Microsoft Teams as our primary content delivery systems for online programs. McConnell Jones' programs will be created in the Microsoft PowerPoint software, which will allow for seamless streaming on the content delivery platforms. These are the most current, effective, and accurate systems for our programs, as attendees will be able to ask questions, interact with polls and questions, and provide instant feedback to the content.

Content Review

Each program developed by McConnell Jones will be reviewed by designated Content Reviewers. These individuals or teams are qualified in the subject matter and are comprised of different individuals than those who developed the content. Bios of McConnell Jones' subject matter experts and content reviewers can be found on the McConnell Jones website here: https://mcconnelljones.com/sample-page-2/cpe-policies-and-information/

Content Development Based on Relevant Learning Objectives and Outcomes

Programs developed by McConnell Jones are comprised of content based on relevant learning objectives and outcomes. In the description of each program, McConnell Jones will define the learning objectives. This included during content delivery, as well as promotional material. McConnell Jones subject matter experts can be found on the McConnell Jones website here: https://mcconnelljones.com/sample-page-2/cpe-policies-and-information/
